

Breaking Patterns, Creating Change

One Day Workshop in Cop in the Head

Experience the transformative power of theatre in this one day workshop.

Share stories of inaction or paralysis, and learn to recognise voices from society that become 'cops' in our heads and stop us from taking action.

Deconstruct these voices through fun games and interactive exercises.

Discover ways to neutralize the 'cops' and take action.

Sunday Nov. 17, 2013
9.30 AM – 5.30 PM
Vidyadeep College,
Ulsoor, Bangalore
For venue map click here

Fee: Rs. 1000* (includes workshop handout, lunch and tea)

No theatre experience necessary

To register click here

contact@ccdc.in www.ccdc.in

About the Facilitator

Radha Ramaswamy received training in Theatre of the Oppressed at the Seattle-based Mandala Center for Change.

In March 2011, she founded the Centre for Community Dialogue and Change (CCDC), dedicated to promoting the use of Theatre of the Oppressed in India.

Radha has conducted over 65 Theatre of the Oppressed workshops in India, Nepal and the USA, working with students, teachers, medical professionals, senior citizens, and other communities of people.

Pay by Cheque in favour of Centre for Community Dialogue and Change.
Mail to A6 Grasmere Apartments, Osborne Road, Bangalore 560042.

*No one turned away. Call 080 25370408 for fee waivers.